

Online Learning – A Boon To American Students

It is a fact now days that knowledge is no longer confined to the boundaries of educational institutes like colleges and schools. In this world of online tutoring now you don't have to depend on your school teachers and fixed schedule any longer.

1888PressRelease) October 14, 2007 - Over the period computer and internet have together made this boundary between states, cities and countries look like a thing of the past. Nowadays information can flow from one corner to the other within a fraction of a second. It is a world where two persons can interact with each other sitting thousands of miles away. People can meet online for video conferencing which includes debates, discussions via web cam and most importantly for online education. In addition to this you no longer have to get punished or face embarrassment in class for late homework or assignments in case you forget them or are unable to do them! This world has shrunk up with the power of high net connectivity computers and a service which they provide which in today's world is known as Online Tutoring!

“In an hour –long session that cost just $ 18, Mr. Vivek Mishra from India helped my child through esoteric concepts of Mathematics for which my son had developed a fear over a period of time” Says Stephanie Jose, mother of Harry Jose, a seventh grade student. “Mr. Vivek helped my child to get each and every concept cleared and that too at such a reduced cost!”

“At first I was somewhat apprehensive about these online tutorials but now I have realized that they are even better than some of their American counterparts!” said Mrs. Jackson, mother of a ninth grade student at Alaska, USA. “My son is showing tremendous improvement!”

American Students are increasingly using this technology of studying online. It is what we can say an entirely different experience, which is different from the traditional system of school and home private tutitions. These online tutors provide online help anytime and anywhere across the globe. From a complex problem in mathematics to writing an essay in English, from a concept in physics to a research in Biotechnology, online teachers are always there to help you with any problem. The teachers working with these established companies have done their master's or postgraduate degrees with good teaching experience and academic performance. They have a pool of teachers specialized in Science, Mathematics, English, Biology and what not!

In addition to all these facilities, online tutoring companies are now offering their services 24x7. Reaping the benefits of these online educational services American students can now study at any time of the day which they feel like comfortable at.

Now, no more pressure of doing homework immediately after returning from school, or missing an evening party of a friend, or even missing a complete football match.

According to the No child left Behind Act it is a compulsion in America to provide quality education to each and every child so that no one is left behind. Education in America is in such a bad state that online tutoring is the only ray of hope for million of American parents. With an increase in competition among various educational institutions, the tutoring companies are adding more varieties and flexibilities to their services. Online tutoring companies not only provide educational help for K - 12 studies, but also for pre college level and college level. These companies also provide help for preparing for standardized test like TOEFL, GRE, SAT etc. Online Tutoring companies are a boon for American students which can help them to come out of the deep dungeons of lack of knowledge. And all this at such a reduced cost, what more can one ask for!!
